

Genghis misses

Seeing Genghis' insistence, Chone decides to give Genghis a problem to keep him busy so that he can take a breather. Chone turns around and asks him about this, and finally sits down, poses a difficult question and gives it to Genghis. The description of the question is as follows:

In a 5 x 5 chess board, we have 5 ministers (we know that the minister is allowed to move horizontally, vertically and diagonally). Now these 5 ministers are arranged 5 by 5 on this page. Chone asks Genghis to check to see if there is a minister who can beat at least one of the other ministers.

Since Genghis could not even count the number of his clothes, now he has reached your skirts. Help him to return to Chone soon :)

Input

If we assume that the bottom left house is the chess house (0 and 0), in each of the 5 input lines, the coordinates of each of the ministers will be given to you.

Output

If there is at least one minister who can beat another minister, print Yes and if there is no minister
